Accepting Others

1. Do not discriminate between persons of various castes and social statutes within society.
2. Caste systems originate with the darkness and such systems are perpetrated by children of darkness.
3. If you are biased towards those that you think are different than yourself – such as on the basis of skin colour, sexual orientation, gender, nationality, ethnicity, or economic situation – you are far from the Creator and He will not claim you as His own.
4. When you remove biased distinctions from yourself, the chains of strife fall away and you become free and closer to perfection and Jehovih will be closer to you.
5. You are not in unity with the Father if you are unable to humble yourself and come to the understanding that all humanity is one.
6. Unity means nothing when you think you are better than everyone else.

Adversity

1. Do not permit despair to lessen your faith; let your faith make you stronger.

2. Worship the Creator Jehovih, praised be His Name, and trust in His promises to save you from the turbulent waves of the deep ocean that is the world.

3. The Creator will give you strength in times of difficulty, fortitude in times of persecution and hope in the face of death.

4. Always be determined to serve Jehovih with all your strength.

5. Never give up hope, even in the face of opposition.

6. The Light of the Father shines even in the darkest of nights so that all those seeking Him in honesty may find Him.

7. One can better cope with the challenges of life and the chaos of the world by faithfully walking in the Light of the Great Father – for His Word, which is the Word of Truth which the Divine Messengers has brought unto you, is like a light house brightly shining upon the deep ocean signalling you to your true home.

8. Humanity is always tested with physical, emotional and mental adversity.

9. It is part of the human drama and the process of spiritual development.

10. No two people have the exact same issues to deal with in exactly the same measure.

11. These adversities are only with the spirit and soul while humans are in the physical shell; the soul is free of these limitations when it becomes liberated from the shackles of the mortal coil.

12. As long as you only see yourself as the body or the brain, then you enslave yourself to a false identity.

13. Do not mistake the shell for the contents of that shell.

Appreciation

1. If you can not appreciate the little things in your life, then how can you expect to ever receive anything bigger?
2. Do not constantly complain about what you do not have, and do not fantasise about those material things you wish you possessed.
3. Every true gift that is found in your hands is there because of the Father of Light who always gives good gifts.
4. Always have appreciation for the work of your fellow brothers and sisters, O children of Light.
5. Encourage one another to press on towards perfection – always showing appreciation for the truth and the selfless sacrifice of those who take the lead within the divine arrangement.
6. One way you can show your appreciation for the blessing you receive each day and the beauty of the creation which you experience, is to give heartfelt thanks to the Father of Greatness.

Attachments

1. A person can begin walking in purity and in truth by awakening and having no attachments to this world.

2. Attachments to the things of the world are like chains that will bind you to an eternity of darkness.

3. When you can not abandon attachments, you are like an anchor that has fallen from its connection to a great ship and has sunk to the bottom of the deep ocean and forgotten by the ship master.

4. You see, my precious children, the ship that I speak of is the Ship of Life which is Faithism that is able to bring salvation to all humanity.

5. The deep ocean is the world that entices humanity to all sorts of evils and is full of darkness.

6. The ship master is the Living Spirit who comes to ferry you to the Other Shore where there are Gardens of Light and where no darkness – not even a shadow can be found.

Atheism

1. Denial of the existence of the Creator is the illusory propaganda of the ignorant.
2. Intellectualism and human science have nothing to do with faith when the Creator is not part of the equation or your outlook on life.
3. If Jehovih is not a part of your outlook on life, then you have no life.
4. May all beings have an outlook of enlightened life to come, never separated from supreme joy beyond comparison.
5. Vain philosophers attempt to avoid the Supreme Being by creating their own philosophies focused instead on materialism.
6. Perceptions are illusions. Man's notion of "no God" is a false perception. Such notions are nothing more than illusions.
7. If you deny the existence of the Creator based on the assumptions of others, you are giving in to unfounded fear and illusion.

8. Giving into fear is equivalent to a strong man who refuses to pick up even a small stone in fear of what lies beneath it.

9. Some people deny the existence of the Creator based on illusions of what He "should be" according to them.

10. Others deny the Creator based on the fact that there is so much evil and suffering in humankind, asking, "Why would a God do this?"

11. Jehovah does not bring evil into the world; a man who is without Jehovah creates evil and makes suffering through wrongful desire.

12. Wrongful desire is the illusion based on the false assumption in which you crave, eventually leading to suffering.

13. Some are addicted to their assumption that "there is no god".

14. Many who deny the existence of the Creator base their assumptions of Jehovah being wrathful and vengeful, which is illusion in itself.

15. Continuing to live in the illusion of atheism will be the cause of the Creator denying a person entry into humankind's true home.

16. Believing in "no God" is an illusion humans have created from their own interpretations of what they perceive to be reality.

17. Some people deny the existence of the Creator because of their arrogance and pride.

18. Arrogance is a sign of weakness and is an illusion some people use to compensate for what they lack.

19. Arrogance for some has become their own god created by their mind, ruling over a small world full of illusion and falsehood.

Jehovih - The Great Father

1. Glory and victory to the Father of Greatness, the True Creator. It is the Great Father that is to be worshipped by the children of Light.
2. Lift up your voice in song to the Father of Greatness, for He is the True Source of Light and Truth, the Great Comforter who gives rest in His wings.
3. The Great Father, the Holy Supreme One, is above creation – outside of time and space, and resides above the heavens.
4. Jehovih does not always involve Himself in the affairs of creation; instead the Almighty has appointed celestial servants unto Himself who assist humanity in various functions.
5. No human being has ever seen the Great Father, but He makes Himself known through His Living Son who serves as a mirror of the Great Father.
6. Humanity, in its fallen state, while in the physical body is unable to see the Great Father without experiencing death.
7. Serve the Great Father wholeheartedly – not by command alone, but out of the desire of your very own heart.

8. The Great Father will forsake none who walk in the Truth.

9. The Son and celestial servants, His sons and daughters, take the prayers and petitions of the children of Light to the Highest Throne above the heavens and present such prayers and petitions to the Great Father.
